Lumenis is the world's leading provider of light-based medical systems for the aesthetic, surgical, ophthalmic, dental and veterinary markets. Our history of innovation and gold-standard technology is renowned. We're the pioneer in the medical laser-device market. We employ and aggressively fund the most accomplished engineering teams in the industry. And we've created a long list of mainstay technologies upon which many of today's laser and light-based procedures are built. These technologies are our foundation... the foundation of the future.

A record of achievement

Lumenis designs, manufactures and markets world-class medical lasers and light-based systems for a wide array of applications. Our breadth of technology enables us to provide you, our customer, with the solutions you want and need. From the earliest commercial CO<sub>2</sub> laser to the introduction of Lumenis One, the world's first customizable platform for aesthetic procedures, we continue to provide highly innovative lasers and light-based systems for safe and efficacious patient treatments.
